

SHOPGIRL BREAKS DOWN IN WALLING TRIAL

STRIKE OF EXPRESS DRIVERS HAS SUDDEN END

WEATHER—Fair to-night and Saturday; colder.

The

"Circulation Books Open to All."

PRICE ONE CENT.

Copyright, 1911, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1911.

"BARON" ARKOVY FREED ON CUBAN VICE-CONSUL'S REFUSAL TO PROSECUTE

Magistrate, Angry, Asks Man Who Made Charge of Larceny How Much He Was Paid for Changing Front.

Young "Nobleman" Next Will Be Tried for Carrying Concealed Weapons — Fellow Countrymen in Court to Denounce Him.

Attorney for Hungarian Catholic Church Says "Baron's" Real Name Is Arnstein, and Father Changed It to Gain Favor With Government.

"How much were you paid for this change of heart?" demanded Magistrate Sternberg of Julie S. Jarron, Cuban Vice-Consul, who came into Jefferson Market Court to-day to withdraw the charge of larceny on which he had caused the arrest of Richard von Arkovy, self-styled "Baron," at the Hotel Plaza on Wednesday night. The little Cuban snuffed unceasingly in the witness-chair, and fumbled and stammered before he finally blurted out:

"Nothing. I have become convinced from what I read in the papers yesterday that Arkovy did not intend to steal the crucifix."

"Where did you dine last night?" demanded Deputy Assistant District Attorney Breckinridge.

The little Cuban flushed and stammered.

"Answer the question," ordered Magistrate Corrigan.

"At Twenty-fifth street and Second Avenue," he stammered.

"And Arkovy's lawyer was with you, was he not?" pressed the prosecuting officer.

"Yes—why, yes, sir—I wanted to explain the situation to Mr. Jarron," Jarron finally answered.

Magistrate Grills Witness.

When the case was called shortly before 12 o'clock Jarron, who had been hustling about the court all morning and talking loudly about his lack of fear for the "Baron's" wrath and calling attention to the fact that he was unarmed, "not even carrying a cane, you will notice, gentlemen," hustled up to the stand.

"I want to withdraw the charge against Arkovy," said his first words.

The Magistrate looked at him in amazement.

"Why?" he thundered.

"Because I have some convincing that I have made a mistake. I don't think he meant to steal the crucifix," explained Jarron.

"This is no collection agency," snapped the Magistrate. "You cannot come in here and enforce the payment of money owed to you."

" Didn't you come in here the day before yesterday?" continued Magistrate Corrigan, "and tell me that this man was a notorious crook, policing at the 'Baron,' who was standing before the bar, every ill at ease, and didn't you say to me that he was a thief and a dangerous man, and needed to be watched?"

"I— I am not afraid of him," answered Jarron. "I am not armed; nor even with a cane."

"That's not what I am talking about," snapped magistrate Corrigan. "You came in here and presented a criminal charge against this man now."

(Continued on Second Page.)

World Building Turkish Baths
New York, has recently been opened and Manager, Chrysostom in attendance. The building is located in Park Row.

WANTED $400,000 FROM COUNTESS HE MURDERED

Blood-Stained Letters Found on Countess Trigona Show Scheme of Baron Paterno.

HER CHECK IN THE PLOT.

Gave It to Creditor to Force His Demand That She Pay Debts to Save Her Honor.

MRS. CURTISS WED FOR THIRD TIME, AGAIN TO DOCTOR

Heiress to $17,000,000 Watt and Pinkney Estate Secretly Becomes a Bride.

For a second time Mrs. Julia Watt Morris Curtiss of Bridgeport, Conn., and New York has married a physician. This time her choice has fallen upon Dr. George Alfred Lawrence, the neurologist of No. 67 Madison avenue. Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence are spending their honeymoon quietly in Philadelphia after having been secretly married on Feb. 14 in Wilmington, Del. The bride's first husband was Peter Morris of Boston, from whom she obtained a divorce in 1897. She had three children by this first marriage, and before she took Dr. Hollin A. Curtis or her second husband he had been her private physician and tutor of her adopted son.

Dr. Curtis and his wife were divorced in 1898. Dr. Lawrence thus in secret of Mrs. Curtiss' known-to-be third husband but her second choice as a physician.

Curtiss to $17,000,000.
Mrs. Lawrence inherited about $17,000,000 from Archibald Watt and Mary G. Pinkney, and after a career of extravagance, in 1898 she was forced into bankruptcy and became a physician.

After reading the note the attorney was so envious that the exposure of the liaison between the pair was really accidentally started by Mrs. Curtis. He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letters Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Used Check in the Plot.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

He intimates that if she refused his request he would make the scandal concerning their names more than twice as bad.

Demanded Blackmail.
The letter Paterno demanded as the price of increasing his attentions to the Countess and permitting her to retain status as vice-consul and her position as his own household, cost him $10,000, with which he paid his debts.

"Baron's" Real Name Arnstein, Hungarian Lawyer Asserts.

RICHARD VON ARKOVY IN JEFFERSON MARKET COURT.

SING SING TERM $2,000 IN SATCHEL FOR BRANDENBURG GRABBED IN STREET STUNS PRISONER FROM PAYMASTER

Writer Convicted of Forgery and Sentenced at Once—Has to Be Carried From Court.

Pattinger Pursues His Assailants, Who Drop Quickly the Money and Escape.

Bremerton, Brandenburg, mail-order writer, was convicted of forgery and sentenced to the Sing Sing term of five years by Judge George H. Geier, of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, at Washington, D. C., and was partly remitted as a result of the intervention of Mr. J. C. and Q. C., and by a heavy sympathetic presentation. He was active yesterday with his wife and their two sons in the oldest, a beautiful girl of twenty years and the other a boy of eight.

He and wife told Bremerton that he was persona non grata in the mail-order business because of his record as a forger and defrauder.

He was born in 1880 at Bremen, Germany, and came to America in 1898.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

He was a mail-order writer for a number of years, and was a successful one.

FIRST AERIAL WAR CHARGE BY AEROPLANE SQUADRON.

Flock of French Flyers in Military Formation Start on Novel Journey.

PAUL, France, March 3.—The first aerial war charge in record was made today when Capt. Boisfranc led a squadron of aeroplanes in flight from Paul to Paris in military formation and was received in full by the 1st Army Corps at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

The aeroplane corps, which includes 120 planes, took off from the airfield at Chalons-en-Champagne at 8:30 a.m. and made a circular tour of the Paris basin, flying over the Seine, Marne, Oise, and Yonne rivers.

It was expected to make the first stop at Chalons-en-Champagne, and then continue on to Paris, where the aeroplane corps would be welcomed in the afternoon.

It was expected to make the first stop at Chalons-en-Champagne, and then continue on to Paris, where the aeroplane corps would be welcomed in the afternoon.

Perkins Blocks Effort to Give Him Official Recognition for Norge Pole Find.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3.—The efforts of the Atlanta Journal to get recognition for the achievement of the Norge in its flight across the North Pole were continued yesterday.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.

The Atlanta Journal, in its editorial of yesterday, said that the Norge had made a great contribution to the cause of science and exploration.